

100 Days To Go Until The Faldo Course Opens

Book Online To Play Lough Erne

Spring 2009: Golf enthusiasts eager to be the first to play Ireland's newest golfing masterpiece, The Faldo Course at Lough Erne Golf Resort in County Fermanagh, Northern Ireland can now book on-line as the countdown to the grand opening on July 1st 2009 gets underway.

Simply go to www.loughernegolfresort.com click on book a tee time on the home page and select the preferred date and time to play this stunning new championship course with green fees starting from just £80.

Created by six-time major champion Nick Faldo. this 7,261 yard Par 72 course is set on a breathtaking peninsula between Lower Lough Erne and Castle Hume Lough, and is already being talked about as an obvious venue for future prestigious European Tour events. Faldo has certainly made an immensely successful transition from champion golfer to internationally acclaimed golf course designer and first saw the Fermanagh landscape on which he was to build his dream course in 2006 with his design team.

With just over 100 days to the official opening of The Championship Faldo Course, the Resort's official representative at world-wide tournaments Rory McIlroy is really relishing the opportunity play the full 18 holes.

The current World No.17 and 2009 Dubai Classic Champion recently said:"I,m really looking forward to playing The Faldo Course, i,ve seen it develop into an outstanding championship layout in superb condition and I know it will be on the must-play list for all golfers in Ireland, as well as all golfers coming to Ireland"

McIlroy has a strong association with Lough Erne, having been hugely encouraged in his early days by Jim Treacy, owner of the Resort. In addition, Rory won the 2004 Faldo Series at the age of 14 and thereafter received invaluable personal coaching and advice from the superstar.

Lough Erne is easily accessible, being located only one hour from Londonderry Airport with flights from Heathrow, Gatwick and Stansted and ninety minutes from Belfast City and Belfast International Airports.
